Platform for future factory

With the introduction of Industry 4.0 and the growing popularity of smart manufacturing, Messe Frankfurt India is proud to launch a focused solution providing platform – Smart Industry Solutions India (SIS India) – that will address the needs of the future factories.

The platform will target end-to-end solutions in smart manufacturing, automation systems, technology and solutions, as well as hydraulics & pneumatics.

Strategically scheduled in the commercial capital of the country, the exhibition is expected to attract a strong network of trade visitors and business leaders for knowledge and technology exchange.

Tap the growing Indian market

- India's manufacturing sector has the potential to touch USD 1 trillion by 2025
- India is seeking technology partners to accelerate domestic manufacturing and improve their technology infrastructure
- With the government's impetus on developing industrial corridors and smart cities along with rolling out major programmes such as "Make in India", "Digital India" etc, there is a sharp innovation and technology led movement in the country
